President's Report

The Regional Galleries Association of Queensland Board met regularly throughout 2014 to discuss programs and membership, develop ways to grow our services for members and raise the organisation's profile within the sector. The year has been one of review with the Board keen to establish increased membership engagement and opportunities as well as philanthropic support to assist with financing further programs in the coming years.

Once again, RGAQ's professional development programs funded through membership income provided numerous opportunities for organisations and individuals and continue to be our most valuable benefit. I am pleased to say that RGAQ provided $10,175 (+GST) to individual and organisational members for professional and exhibition/program development activities.

Museum & Gallery Services Queensland continued to deliver high-quality programs and initiatives to the sector throughout 2014. RGAQ was proud to partner with M&GSQ on the presentation of the Energy Efficiency Information Resources for the Public Museum and Gallery Sector. These included Practical Guide for Sustainable Climate Control and Lighting in Museums and Galleries; A Case Study on Lighting for Museums and Galleries and Clever Custodians which provides quick tips and other initiatives for improving the energy efficiency of small-to-medium museums and galleries. These valuable resources are all available through the M&GSQ website.

The Board of RGAQ ensures the gallery sector's input into M&GSQ activities and decision making through representation by two RGAQ board members on the M&GSQ Board. I thank John Waldron (up to 27 June 2014) and Karina Devine for once again taking up this responsibility.

There were some new faces added to the RGAQ Board in 2014. I would like to welcome Nina Shadforth, Claire Sourgnès and Anna Thurgood to the team and thank our previous Directors Dawn Oelrich, Chris Stannard and John Waldron for sharing their knowledge, expertise and ideas during their tenure. I also acknowledge the ongoing work of Board members, John Walsh, Karina Devine and Brian Tucker for their continued guidance of the organisation and the services of Natasha Lewis Honeyman, Membership Officer throughout 2014. I would also like to thank the staff of M&GSQ for the ongoing services they provide for RGAQ throughout the year.

Your support and input as members is crucial to the ongoing vitality of RGAQ as an organisation that represents the interests and concerns of the public gallery sector in Queensland. Through regular review and consultation, RGAQ strives to ensure that its membership services meet the changing needs of our members.

On behalf of the Board I look forward to working with our members, partners and stakeholders over the next twelve months as we build the capacity of RGAQ and the regional and public gallery sector in Queensland.

Tracy Cooper-Lavery
President
